LLIS.gov Resources for Emergency Planning for Persons with Disabilities and Special Needs

A TOOL FOR ENHANCING NATIONAL PREPAREDNESS

Lessons Learned Information Sharing (LLIS.gov) is a US Department of Homeland Security/Federal Emergency Management Agency program. LLIS.gov serves as the national, online network of lessons learned, best practices, and innovative ideas for the emergency response and homeland security communities. This information and collaboration resource helps emergency response providers and homeland security officials prevent, protect against, respond to, and recover from terrorist attacks, natural disasters, and other emergencies. LLIS.gov provides Federal, State, and local responders with a wealth of information and front-line expertise on effective planning, training, and operational practices across homeland security functional areas.

LLIS.gov at a Glance

- Online since April 19, 2004
- Over 50,000 registered members
- Over 14,000 documents, including more than 1,700 state and local plans, 700 after-action reports, and 900 original content documents
- Secure message boards and collaboration tools
- Targeted information on current homeland security topics

EMERGENCY PLANNING FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES AND SPECIAL NEEDS

The LLIS.gov Emergency Planning for Persons with Disabilities and Special Needs page is a one-stop resource for information related to improving emergency planning for persons with disabilities and other special needs. Some of the page's features include:

- After-action reports and analyses;
- Brochures and templates;
- A disabilities and special needs forum;
- Funding sources documents;
- Legal compliance documents;
- A list of available training programs; and
- Personal preparedness documents.
