

FEMA

Lessons Learned
Information Sharing
LLIS.gov

LLIS.gov on Twitter

Lessons Learned Information Sharing (LLIS.gov) joins the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the American Red Cross, and many other emergency management organizations and agencies in creating a Twitter profile. Twitter is an online social networking site where members can post short updates and keep up with other members through online profiles or cell phone text messages. The emergency management community uses Twitter for local real-time updates and short nationwide announcements. To view the new LLIS.gov Twitter profile, please click here. If you have any questions, please contact outreach@llis.dhs.gov.

Exercise Support System

As part of our ongoing effort to better serve the needs of the exercise community, LLIS.gov is pleased to announce the release of the National Exercise Division (NED) Exercise Support System, an online tool that facilitates exercise planning and conduct by providing a secure, collaborative workspace for exercise planners and controllers. The NED Exercise Support System will replace the functionality of the Federal Emergency Management Agency Preparedness Portal. The Exercise Support System incorporates all of the features of LLIS.gov Channels while adding new capabilities to support the planning and conduct of exercises, including chat rooms and a Public Library of key reference documents. To request the creation of an Exercise Support Channel, please contact NEP@dhs.gov. If you have any other questions, please contact the LLIS.gov HelpDesk at help@llis.dhs.gov.

If you would prefer not to receive messages to this email address, please log onto www.LLIS.gov, go to "Settings" via the top navigation bar, and uncheck the box next to "Allow LLIS.gov communications to be sent to my external e-mail address?"